usry.

City Health Officer Dr. W. P. S. Keating's report of contagious diseases to the state board of health, as reported to him, during January, shows that there were it cases, as follows: Diphtheria 5 (of which three were traceable to out of town sources), measles 2.scarlet fever 2, typhoid fever 1, and tuberculosis 1. The report compares favorably with that for the corresponding month last year, eliminating the three cases of diphtheria mentioned. There were no cases of scarlet fever for January, 1909, and the total number of cases was but seven. Most of the cases reported the past month were of a mild nature.
